Scranton Loses Again to the Eastern League Leaders.

SPRINGFIELD DEFEATS SYRACUSE

The Bisons Lose Another Game to the Fat Men of Wilkes-Barre. Erie-Yonkers Game Again Postponed by Order of J. Pluvius.

ROVIDENCE defeated Scranton in the second game played at the former place, adding three points more to its already commanding lead over its nearest competitor in the Eastern league pennant race.

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, P. Ct. Rows include Providence, Syracuse, Erie, Buffalo, Springfield, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Yonkers.

EGAN WAS A TERROR.

Scranton Fielded Well, but Could Not Bat Properly. PROVIDENCE, Sept. 6.—Scranton was again defeated by Providence today, mainly because Egan's pitching could not be batted safely when hits were needed.

Table with columns: Player, R, H, P.O., A, E. Rows include Lyons, Bassett, Knight, J. Rogers, Cooney, Stricker, Murray, Dixon, Egan.

Table with columns: Player, R, H, P.O., A, E. Rows include Cabell, C. Rogers, Johnson, Patchen, Whitehead, Hess, Lehane, Phelan, Delaney.

Repairs in London's Streets. It is always amusing to listen to the euphoric exchange of compliments between cabbies and a 'busman, who is often sufficiently clever at repartee to cause cabbies' attempts at ridicule to recoil on his own.

Home-made Stained Glass. Imitation stained glass, which may be turned to good account for flower or landscape tablets to be hung before windows to add, in addition to any attraction of the design, color vivacity to a room, may be executed by covering the glass with a thin film of turpentine, and painting on this in various colors somewhat thin. The glass is to be placed in a warm, dry place for a few days. The design may be placed beneath the glass or outlined on its face by means of transfer paper and a tracer.

AMERICA'S PIONEER STEAMERS.

The First Transatlantic Steamship Race Occurred in 1838. There are undoubtedly many men and women in New York today who went down to the Battery and cheered and waved their hands in greeting to the first steamship that entered this port from Europe.

Furthermore it was a race that attracted infinitely more attention than any of the contests that have succeeded it. Two steam vessels had crossed the Atlantic in years previous, both having started from this side—the Savannah, from Savannah, in 1819, and the Royal William, from Queenstown, in 1821—but neither of these voyages had demonstrated the feasibility of abandoning the fine sailing packets and clippers for steamers when it came to a long voyage.

The Savannah used both steam and sail during the trip, measured from Queenstown, in eighteen days, and it was learned that two steam vessels were on the stocks building for the American service. These were the Sirius, at London, and the Great Western, at Bristol. It was these vessels that made the first race, the Sirius making the trip, measured from Queenstown, in eighteen days, and it was learned that two steam vessels were on the stocks building for the American service.

Why She Talked So. On Howard street the other day a benevolent old gentleman beheld a little six-year-old girl walking gravely along with a basket on her arm. Pating the chubby tot under the chin he said: "And where are you going, my pretty maid?" "Give thee good day, gray beard" replied the midget. "My father bade me to the shambles hie for a fat bunch."
